PERTH MURAL PROJECT

BACKGROUND

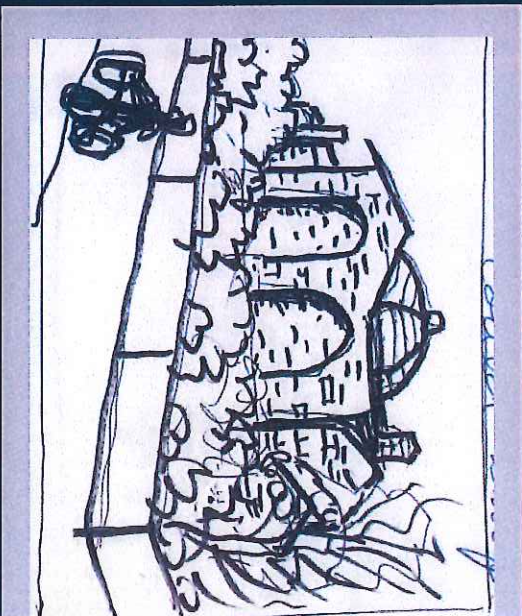

- Late in 2018 Rosalie Whigley, a Perth resident, approached Council with a proposal for a mural installation for Perth.
- The proposal is to paint a series of murals depicting Perth and its history and locate them throughout the town. With the impending by-pass of the town, the idea behind the proposal is to create attractions to draw visitors to the town.
- Council considered the proposal at its meeting of 18 February 2019 and made the following decision:
 - That Council supports the proposed mural installation in Perth and the following steps now be taken:
 - Council officers, in conjunction with Mrs Whigley develop a draft implementation strategy for the project including:
 - A series of suitable locations for the murals;
 - Suggested images for the murals;
 - An implementation plan for the project.
 - The draft implementation strategy be referred to the Perth Local District Committee for comment;
 - The draft implementation strategy be advertised in the Northern Midlands Courier and on Council's Facebook page, inviting public comment.
 - Upon receipt of feedback from the Perth Local District Committee and the community a final implementation strategy be presented to Council for approval.

I'm not sure painting murals of what is currently in Perth makes much sense. If it is murals of the past it shows the town History.

It would be good to have a linking theme so people can go on a sort of pilgrimage to learn the history of the area. School groups might even come to do the walk.

Honestly be better off to put it out to artist tender or run it as a competition with arts bodies and organisations involved. Might cost more but result will be better.

This might be a bit off topic but there is no evidence that the artist is capable of presenting work to a standard that would be acceptable. Surely you wont let this go ahead without showing the community some of her finished work. Cressy entrance and exit signs are an embarassment and i fear you will allow the same mistake to occur again. Please do a proper quality control check with a suitably qualified professional before allowing this to go ahead.

The murals will look cheap and tacky and of absolutely no benefit to Perth at all. Waste of money on councils behalf but again Perth residents are used to council spending money where its not wanted or needed e.g. planter boxes along main rd instead of actually putting money into things we actually want!! Wake up northern midlands council!!!

If we had history of Perth 'characters' or well known residents it would be great to tell their stories through murals. Or stories like the Goethe punt get its name - their must be more and stories are getting lost as church has closed and that community feel is no longer what it once was as it's growing and subdividing. What about Gibbet Hill and it history and the convict history we have. It would be great if the murals could tell Perth's story!
